Adlai Says Ike's H-Bomb Attitude Shows 'Defeatism'

BOSTON (AP)—Adlai E. Stevenson attributed to President Eisenhower today an attitude of "hopeless defeatism" on "how to save the world from hydrogen devastation."

And he said, in a bristling reply to Eisenhower's H-bomb "white paper" of last week, the President "seems insensitive to the danger of radioactive fall-out from H-bomb explosions."

The Democratic standard bearer's statement and his own accompanying 3,000-word "H-bomb memorandum" constituted another round in the campaign controversy precipitated by his proposal for a ban on tests of super-bombs.

The memorandum said Eisenhower's assertion that a simple voluntary agreement with the Russians would allow "no safeguards, no control, no inspection" to insure stoppage of H-bomb tests disregards the key fact that violations of such an agreement "can no more be hidden than an earthquake."

THE EISENHOWER "white paper" maintained it is impossible "in view of the vast Soviet land mass that can screen possible fu-

U.S. Says Aid To Satellites May Be Slow

WASHINGTON (AP)—U.S. officials said today that Eastern European states trying to cast off Russian rule must be expected to go slow in seeking any American economic aid they need.

Secretary of State Dulles has declared the United States is ready to share its "abundance" with the Communist satellites as they gain independence. Without giving details, he said that this government "is actively concerned with the suffering" of the Hungarians and will do what it can to help them.

The weekend action of the United States, Britain and France in taking the case of Soviet military operations in Hungary to the United Nations Security Council represents a decision to give political aid.

But if Hungary is to secure independence from Soviet rule, if Poland is to anchor its own freedom of Russian domination firmly, each country will have to obtain outside economic aid.

U. S. officials, however, believe that Titoist type leaders in all the Eastern European countries want to maintain friendly relations with Russia, even though this means a slower attack on their rebuilding problems.

Mayor Warns Vandals Who 'Go Too Far'

Mayor Bob Hedges reminded all those who want to celebrate Halloween with monkeyshines that "the fun ends when it means damage to somebody's property, or worse yet, personal injury—or a risk of hurting someone."

The mayor emphasized "nobody is out to spoil anybody's fair-minded fun," but he warned that police will be on the lookout for those who go too far. Law enforcement heads for both the city and county have already stressed they are watching for vandals who try to claim they are only celebrating Halloween.

As for the traditional door-to-door visits by the small fry in Circleville, Mayor Hedges has designated tonight as "Pennies Night." Tomorrow night, he said, will be the evening for the "tricks-or-treat" callers.

And Wednesday evening will be Halloween Night, when the make-believe goblins and ghosts will parade through the downtown section, beginning at 7:30 p. m. The parade is being sponsored by the Circleville Jaycees.

Several prizes will be awarded.

Northwest Getting Chilly Air, Rain

CHICAGO (AP)—Chilly air and rain was reported in the northwest today while the rest of the country featured generally warmer weather with partly cloudy skies and scattered rain.

A cold air mass hovered over the northwest from the Dakotas, Colorado and Utah into most of California. Temperatures ranged from the 20s in the north to the lower 50s in southern California.

Lower temperature readings were forecast today from Minnesota to Iowa and Kansas and in the far southwest.

These Pinball Slugs Came From Pistol

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Carl Morris, 30, was arrested Sunday because he put "slugs" into a pinball machine. He said he pumped eight bullets from a .22 caliber pistol into the machine because "it won't pay off."

Morris said he "just got mad" after losing about $100 in four weeks to the machine. "I couldn't win on it. It just won't pay off," Morris charged. Said the wife of the cafe operator: "It's not supposed to pay off. It's for amusement only."

NEW HOLY LAND CRISIS SEEN COMING IN HOURS

Soviet Condemned In U. N. Session

West Receiving Solid Backing For Move In Hungarian Situation

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—Western U. N. delegates expressed satisfaction today over the solid support they received both inside and outside the Security Council for their effort to end the bloodshed in Hungary.

Messages poured in from governments all over the world backing up the West's demands that Russia halt her military intervention. Some Western diplomats felt that this public pressure, plus the reported demands of the Hungarian government, might produce results.

The council recessed its discussions temporarily after 5 1/2 hours of debate in an extraordinary Sunday session. Private talks were in progress to determine what the next step would be.

In the council debate the Soviet Union failed to rally a single country to support her claim that the United States had started all the trouble in Hungary and that Soviet troops were only helping the Hungarian government restore order.

Israel Hinted Ready For Jab At Arabs

America Sends Pair Of Warnings Against 'Endangering Peace'

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

With most of the world absorbed by anti-Russian activities in Hungary and Poland, Western observers were keeping a close watch on the Holy Land where one American expert said a crisis could be reached within a few hours.

Despite warnings from the United States, Israel bolstered her Arab borders today with reserve battalions called up in what the government termed a "partial mobilization."

Reports said Israel had mobilized from 150,000 to 200,000 men along her frontiers.

The United States took a grave view of the renewed mobilization and urged Americans to leave the Middle East unless their presence was essential.

The Israeli government, announcing the callup of the reserves, said it was "to block any possible enemy attack and afford sufficient breathing space in case of attack."

Tension in Israel has mounted since Jordan, which has the longest frontier with Israel of any Arab state, formed a joint military command with Syria and Egypt last week. A pro-Egyptian Parliament was elected in Jordan a week ago.

President Eisenhower sent two messages to Premier David Ben-Gurion cautioning Israel to avoid any act "which would endanger the peace."

Finding Raps Both Phone Firm, Union

State Industrial Commission Holds Each Responsible In Strike

COLUMBUS (AP)—The Ohio Industrial Commission today held both the union and the company equally responsible for failure to settle the violence-marked southern Ohio telephone strike that began last July 15.

The strike of the Communications Workers of America against the Ohio Consolidated Telephone Co. has disrupted service in a 24-county area at various times.

The commission report today was based on a recent hearing in which both sides in the dispute were called in to present their case. The union did present its case, but an attorney for the company appeared only briefly to protect the legality of the hearing.

The commission made these recommendations on the three major issues in dispute between the company and the union:

Union Shop — "The position of the union with reference to the preserving of the 'union shop' provision is valid and it is recommended that the same be contained in any new agreement."

CLASSIFICATIONS of supervisors by the company — "The commission recommends that this issue be promptly submitted to the National Labor Relations Board for decision."

No-strike arbitration — "The commission believes that the best solution to this problem lies in full arbitration; the commission is compelled to conclude that full arbitration cannot be had because of the opposition of the company."

"As far as the failure to reach an amicable settlement is concerned," the report said, "it must be concluded that this is due equally to the union and the company."

"In this respect, the responsibility for the existence and continuance of the strike must be borne equally by the parties."

Homer H. Hickling, industrial commission chief counsel, said the report had no legal force to compel either side to follow recommendations.

An "ultimatum" handed Gov. Frank J. Lausche by the president of Ohio Consolidated hardly caused a ripple in the statehouse Sunday.

President Clare Williams demanded of the governor that "law

Arabs Mount Anti-French Activities

PARIS (AP)—Anti-French demonstrations have spread across the Arab world in sympathy with Algerian rebels trying to wrest independence from French rule.

One man was killed and more than 60 injured Sunday in riots and other violence against the French outside Algeria. A general strike to protest recent French actions in Algeria halted work in much of the Arab world.

At the same time the war persisted within Algeria. Weekend deaths totaled some 95, including 23 French soldiers and 8 civilians caught in a carefully laid rebel ambush south of Algiers.

The anti-French violence elsewhere apparently was the result of a call by the nine-nation Arab League for a 24-hour general strike on behalf of five Algerian nationalist leaders captured by a French ruler a week ago.

Arab mobs burned the French consulate in the Old City of Jerusalem, smashed windows of the French-owned buildings in the Syrian city of Aleppo.

Sixteen Arab civilians, two consulate clerks and several policemen were reported wounded in the attack on the Jerusalem consulate. The consular staff took refuge on the roof and was rescued by Jordanian troops.

In Aleppo, a town of 350,000 in Syria, a mob ran wild for three hours, setting fire to four French mission schools and the French information center. Police shot into the crowd, killing one rioter and wounding 29.

Wilson Pooh-Poohs H-Bomb Test Ban

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Defense Wilson says that stopping hydrogen bomb tests "wouldn't solve the problem that faces the world."

What scares the people of the world, he said, is not so much the testing of the bombs as the possibility they may be used in war.

He was asked about the proposal of Adlai E. Stevenson, Democratic presidential nominee, that the United States take the lead in seeking agreement to halt testing the bombs; Wilson said there's "nothing new" about that.

Eisenhower said the United States has started consulting with Britain and France about the situation, in line with a 1950 Western Big Three pledge to take joint action to maintain peace and curb CLEVELAND (AP)—A former Parma housewife testified in common pleas court today that her Turkish-born husband subjected her to indignities because she was a "mere" woman.

Mrs. Agnes Eker, 32, who now lives in Akron, said her husband beat her during their 10-week marriage and refused to permit her to read even a newspaper, explaining that was the way women were handled in Turkey.

Rheumatic Fever Magic Age Said 20

CINCINNATI (AP)—Age 20 appears to be a magic age for persons with a history of rheumatic fever, the American Heart Association (AHA) was told today.

Two New York researchers told the association's annual scientific meeting that children who have had rheumatic fever and who reach their 20th birthday with only moderate heart enlargement or moderate leakage of heart valve may look forward to a life almost as long as that of their non-affected contemporaries.

Dr. May G. Wilson and Dr. Wan Lim, reporting the longest follow-up of rheumatic fever patients on record, told this story: Review of the history of 757 out of 1042 children observed during a 40-year period who reached the age of 20 or more produced the following findings:

1. Outlook for survival was primarily determined by the extent of heart damage sustained in the first two decades of life.

2. In four-fifths of the patients surveyed, only moderate heart enlargement was noted; and in more than one-half, damage to heart valves could be considered minimal.

3. Recurrence of active rheumatic inflammation of the heart—which may increase heart damage—took place in less than three percent of cases after the age of 20.

4. In general, adults with rheumatic heart disease have a more favorable outlook for survival than children. Among patients 20 to 52 years old, the average annual death rate was just about one-half that found among patients under 20.

The doctors said that survival curves for the entire group of patients who reached the age of 20 indicated that more than four-fifths would live to be at least 45.

In an address Sunday night, retired General Mark W. Clark, former commander-in-chief in the Far East, dramatized the toll of heart disease with these statistics from military life:

Approximately 8,000 men were given disability discharges from military service or died in military service from heart disease during world war II and—

Approximately 317,500 men, or nearly seven percent of 4,828,000 rejected before induction as of August 1, 1945, by the Army, were rejected because of heart disease.

General Clark, now president of the Citadel, the military college of South Carolina, and campaign chairman of the AHA's "Heart Fund" during 1954-1956, said this manpower loss from heart disease—some 397,500 men—would have been sufficient "to man 27 Army infantry divisions."

He's promised the Vegetarians two cauliflowers in every pot and the Temperance League 80 olives in every Martini (this'll leave no room for gin) and he's promised the Independent voters two dollars in every wallet (for each vote, that is). The pig is named "Gina" and she's our Me First Party Mascot, and we always keep her on the platform at rallies as an inspiration. ## Hunters' Imp Gm, Receive Stiff Penalties

Two hunters, apparently not content to wait for the opening of hunting season, received stiff penalties yesterday for having illegal game in their possession and hunting without permission.

Howard Forbes, Orient Route 1, was fined $100 and costs for taking a pheasant, $50 and costs for killing a rabbit, and $10 and costs for hunting without permission.

The fines were handed down by Walter Heise, Harrison Township Justice of the Peace. The out-of-season game was taken on the Marvin Galloway farm west of Darbyville.

Pickaway County Game protector Clarence Francis, who apprehended the two over-anxious hunters, again reminded local hunters that rabbit and pheasant season here does not get underway until November 15.

All violators apprehended will be punished he warned.

Iron Lung Captive Takes His Own Life

WICHITA, Kan. (AP)—Eugene Wolcott, confined to an iron lung except for brief periods, was found shot to death Sunday, clutching a rifle.

He had slipped out of the respirator while alone, obtained the weapon and gone into the yard.

Floyd Smith, acting coroner, said the wound beneath Wolcott's chin was self-inflicted and caused death instantly.

Doctor Puts OK On Ike's Trips

CINCINNATI (AP)—The doctors who examined President Eisenhower over the weekend "believe it is all right" for him to pursue scheduled campaign tours.

That's the report by Dr. Paul Dudley White of Boston, a heart specialist who treated the President after his heart attack and was one of the examining doctors in the checkup.

Dr. White, here to attend the annual meeting of the American Heart Assn., said that the President "has been working pretty hard" but "gives every appearance of being in excellent health."

Federal Highway Program Seen Boon To Steel Mills

CLEVELAND (AP)—A market for 50 million tons of steel will be provided by the 13-year federal highway program, "Steel" magazine said today.

The trade weekly added, however, that most of the steel required for the program will be in tight supply and competition from other steel users will bring about a touch-and-go situation.

Most of the steel requirements for the highway program will be for structural shapes, plates, piling and reinforcing bars, "which have been and will continue to be in tight supply," the publication said.

It added that competition from other construction projects, freight car builders, ship builders and others will "keep the situation touch-and-go."

"Steel" said benefits from the road construction program, which will mean large amounts of new equipment, will spread beyond the steel and construction machinery industries.

"Also benefiting," it said, "will

Budapest Sees Sparse Fighting

Premier Again Pledges Ouster Of Russians

VIENNA (AP)—Sporadic fighting again raked Budapest early today despite Premier Imre Nagy's promise to pull Russian troops out of the bloodstained city and to meet other demands of rebellious Hungarians.

Budapest radio reported shortly after 10 a. m. that there had been shooting in the capital's 11th district during the night and that "there still are elements who want to disturb the peace."

In London, Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd said today the Soviet Union is pouring more troops into strife-torn Hungary instead of withdrawing units already there.

He told the House of Commons some Soviet units and the Hungarian security police "behaved with the utmost ruthlessness" in attempting to put down the Hungarian revolt.

The broadcast added that "armed workers' units" searching houses for arms were met with gunfire.

The rebels claimed complete control over a strip of western Hungary 100 miles long and 50 miles wide, only 19 miles west of Budapest at its northern limit. Rebel banners were reported flying all over western Hungary and in cities throughout the land.

The Budapest radio announced Soviet troops had begun pulling out of the battle-scarred capital as Nagy promised. But Russian tanks and big guns still were reported camped in the city.

THE REBEL radio at Győr, in northwest Hungary, reported that it had received information from northeast Hungary that a withdrawal of Russian troops in the border area there took place during the night.

There still was no clear answer from rebel leaders to the extensive concessions promised by Nagy's Communist dominated "popular front" government.

These included a promise to open immediate negotiations with Moscow for the withdrawal of all Soviet troops from Hungary. But they did not include any suggestion that Communist-run Hungary would permit free elections or the establishment of a representative government.

The government radio announced that a committee from rebel headquarters in Győr had arrived in Budapest, presumably to discuss the situation with government representatives.

The broadcast said the rebel committee was appealing to the workers in Győr to re-establish calm and order and resume work.

Police Investigate Breakin At Legion

Burglars who entered the American Legion building on E. Main St., after the hall had been closed Saturday at 2:30 a. m., made off with money and articles. Value of loot was estimated at $250.

The entry and theft was not discovered until 8 p. m. Saturday when the building was opened for the evening's business. The burglars entered a rear door.

In addition to change taken from a cash register and several coin machines, items missing included novelty charms and a fifth of whiskey.

Officers Forest Sowards and John Lockard investigated.

Stolen Car Found Abandoned On 104

An automobile belonging to Bill Snyder, 124 1/2 Watt St. either Saturday night or Sunday morning, was recovered at 11:30 a. m. yesterday on Route 104, one mile south of Route 22.

The car, which had been abandoned, was found by a farmer who reported the discovery to the sheriff's department. The vehicle was out of gas and the left rear tire was flat.

Snyder said the gasoline tank had been two-thirds full before the car was stolen.

Bingman shot the northern woods animal as it was crossing a stream. The local hunter and his guide were in a canoe coming down the stream when the moose was spotted.

The first shot, fired at about 200 yards away, hit the animal back of the shoulder.

In that it would probably have taken a truck to transport the kill here, Bingman brought home only a hind and front quarter. He left the remainder in an Indian village in Ontario.

The proud hunter also brought home the horns, which can be seen at his W. Main St. drugstore.

any aggression in the Middle East.

U. S. DIPLOMATIC missions in Israel, Jordan, Egypt and Syria received instructions to warn Americans to leave unless they are "performing essential functions." There are between 7,000 and 8,000 American officials, businessmen, tourists and others in the four countries. The State Department described the warning as a precaution until conditions improve. It said no "full-scale evacuation" was contemplated.

In the Israeli sector of Jerusalem the streets were almost deserted Sunday although it was a regular work day. Civilian transportation was slowed by the movement of troops and tanks.

Mounting tension has been noted the last three days. It was generally attributed to the formation in Amman last week of a joint Egyptian-Syrian-Jordan military command and recent hints that Iraqi troops might move into politically disturbed Jordan.

There are about 320 Americans in Jordan, 60 of them in Arab Palestine. About 100 of them are in official capacities. There are 1,893 Americans in Egypt. Many are missionaries, teachers and businessmen.

The air of crisis was heightened by the announcement of Israeli military authorities today that three suicide bands of Arab commandos had crossed into Israel from the Egyptian-held Gaza Strip Sunday night and two of the groups were captured. Increased activity of these bands was one reason given for the Israeli move.

Jordan's tough little army, formerly called the Arab Legion, was reported deployed on the west bank of the Jordan ready to take the brunt of any Israeli attack. Jordan has defense alliances with Britain, as well as separate treaties with Iraq, Syria and Egypt.

France Signs Pact To Give Away Saar

Ancient Foe, Germany, Benefits Under Accord Reached In Luxembourg

LUXEMBOURG (AP)—France and West Germany signed a treaty here Saturday restoring the rich Saar Valley to German control.

The signers were Foreign Minister Christian Pineau of France and Heinrich Von Brentano of West Germany. They also endorsed a score of related agreements and said "the last problems standing between the two countries" now had been settled.

Under the treaty, which must be ratified by the Parliaments of both nations, the Saarland will revert to German political control next Jan. 1 and will come completely under German sovereignty, as West Germany's 10th state, on Dec. 31, 1959.

In the intervening three years of transition, France will keep certain financial and economic rights in the territory. It has had the Saar since 1945.

The region covers only 991 square miles, about half the size of New York's Long Island, but it is one of Europe's most thickly populated and highly industrialized localities, crowded between Germany, Luxembourg and France.

Under its rolling hills are 10 billion tons of coal — enough to keep its miners busy for more than 500 years. Saar mines produce more than 17 million tons of coal and Saar mills 3 million tons of crude steel yearly. Manufactures, include steam engines, pumps, transport equipment, machine tools and mining and farm machinery.

The new agreements provide that:

1. France is guaranteed a supply of 90 million tons of Saar coal in the next 25 years.

2. The two countries will make the Moselle River into an international canal linking France's industrial Lorraine with the Rhine River in Germany. The canal will cost an estimated 370 million German marks ($97,875,000). Germany will pay about a third of this.

3. Germany will take over the Saar railroads and postal service in the three-year transition period. Goods meanwhile will pass freely between the Saar and Germany.

4. On a day still to be fixed, Saarlanders will turn in the 40 billion French francs (116 million dollars) now circulating in the territory and get back German marks at the official rate. The francs will revert to France without compensation.

The Saar, whose people speak German, has been the object of a tug-of-war between the French and Germans for generations. Napoleon took it and then, in 1815, lost it to Prussia. France re-

Eleanor OKs Risk In Adlai's Plan

NEW YORK (AP)—Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt says Adlai Stevenson's proposal that the United States should take the lead in halting H-bomb tests is a start toward safety of the world.

Mrs. Roosevelt has admitted "there may be a risk" that an agreement to stop such tests might be broken. But she expressed hope the risk would be taken.

Stevenson, Democratic presidential candidate, has said his first order of business, if elected, would be to seek world agreement to halt H-bomb tests.

Cuban Aide Killed

HAVANA (AP)—The chief of Cuba's military intelligence service, Col. Antonio Blanco Rico, 36, was shot to death Sunday as he left a cabaret. The assassins, unidentified, escaped.

claimed it in 1918. But then it was detached from Germany and put under the League of Nations 15 years. In 1935, Saarlanders voted 9-1 to return to Hitler's Reich.

In World War II the United States occupied the Saar and turned it over to the French military government. France incorporated it into her economic system. But agitation for return of the territory grew both in West Germany and in the Saar itself.

So France and Germany, on Oct. 23, 1954, agreed on a new status for the territory. It was to be "European," run by a neutral commission under the seven-nation Western European Union, while the French retained their economic interests there.

The Saarlanders voted down this plan, 2-1, Oct. 23, 1955. The pro-French Saar government resigned, and in December a pro-German government was elected.

Last Sept. 29, French Premier Guy Mollet and German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer agreed in Bonn on the setup provided in the documents signed today.

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: There is a common problem today, namely, when a married man forgets that he is married and dates a single girl. This does occur when a large number of men and women work together in an organization.

How does it affect, socially, the single girl involved? And the wife to whom the man is unfaithful? And the man himself, in general? In your opinion, which one of them is most hurt?—taking into consideration that each member of the triangle is a fairly decent human being.

B. F.

DEAR B. F.: The person who is being actively unfaithful is the key figure in a triangle situation. And the hopelessly negative, self-defeating aspect of the triangle is that this unfaithful fellow, the key person, becomes a cipher in psychological encounter with the other two individuals intimately involved in the betrayal operation.

Take the case of a married man, two-timing his wife by dating a girl co-worker. As he becomes unfaithful to his wife, first in his thoughts and desires, then in his actions progressively, he loses (by adulteration) the capacity to have any really meaningful, reciprocally satisfactory "oneness" with her—in mind; or body; or spirit.

At the same time, he is equally unable (for the same reason: of forfeited integrity), to establish a vital relationship with the other woman. That is to say, an unguarded, wholehearted, mutually dedicated sharing of emotion, aspiration and social fellowship.

Thus in reckless pursuit of forbidden fruit, the philanderer damages himself primarily, in terms of truly dissipating his capacity to identify himself profoundly with a love partner—so that in the end, his "love life" seems to him barren and disappointing, regardless of where, how, or with whom he spends it.

As for the effects of this kind of thing upon the wife and the other woman, well, assuming they each care enough to persist in the tangle, they too are feeding upon husks in the setup, obviously. And that kind of starvation diet, indefinitely prolonged, is bound to result in sickly anemic personality, disturbed obsessive behavior, socially pathetic status, and so on.

The poor thwarted creatures can't experience, even fragmentarily, a worthwhile or consolatory relationship with a male who, for the most part, just isn't there; who is never more than physically present, transiently—in a self-enclosed, double-minded, defensive mood.

As to which of the two women is most hurt by the problem—the wife or the girl—I should imagine that, subjectively, they might suffer about equally. Much or little, depending upon their temperaments. But socially the girl gets the worst of it, of course, in running the gauntlet of public disfavor, insecurity and ignominy—as compared to the wife, who at least

BRITISH AND DULLES

WITH THE SUEZ controversy hanging fire in the United Nations, there is widespread comment on the unpopularity of Secretary of State John Foster Dulles in Britain and France, particularly Britain. Dulles was a great man to the British at the outset. As they began retreating from former empire outposts, however, the British people suffered loss of pride. This was intensified by their economic problems. These developments called for a scapegoat, and Dulles seems to be it.

The British Tories are especially provoked by the U. S. Secretary of State. The Laborites are snickering about this development. They contend it bears out what they have always said, which is that a close alliance with the United States is not in the best British interest. The Laborites' stand could entail a future shifting of international ties of the greatest importance.

Among other charges made in Britain is that Nasser of Egypt is organizing fifth columns against the West in the Middle East and that the Dulles policies fail to recognize the danger.

As is usual when a nation finds itself on a spot, the British blame everybody but themselves. They pulled out of Egypt and the Suez Canal Zone when they could have remained until they had firm commitments. They failed to foresee the consequences of their weakness. But somebody has to be blamed for London's failure, and Dulles seems to have been selected to be the scapegoat.

THAT CHINESE RUMOR

THERE ARE persistent but unfounded reports in free world capitals that Red China is adding to Moscow's woes in Poland and elsewhere by demanding that the Kremlin recede from its dominant position in the communist world. The rumors indicate that Peiping seems to want a withdrawal of Russians from positions of authority in the satellites.

These rumors are subject to various interpretations. The worst is that they may be a new move in the damnable communist conspiracy to throw the free world off its guard to be followed by a strengthened drive for world conquest. A by-product of the rumored Peiping policy might be reduced resistance to a United Nations membership for Red China.

A more hopeful view for future world order is that the red satellites are really resentful of Russian mastery and are laying the groundwork for a diffusion of authority in the communist bloc.

The Red China rumor is particularly interesting in view of a long standing theory in some circles that China and Russia have opposite interests which are bound to clash. Russia then might attempt to snuggle up to the West for help against China's superior manpower. Such radical shifts in national alliances have already occurred in this century.

All this now is in the field of rumor. It could not be the basis of profitable free world policy until the satellites really show their colors as nations independent of Moscow and eager to discard communism.

These Days

Some regard it as courage. Others regard it as brazen. Some say that the one who has not sinned should cast the first stone. Others say that the whole issue has been made by press agents for profit and that the morals of a nation should not be debased by profits.

This is what Ingrid Bergman said:

"All right, I had a baby before I was married. It's not the first time that ever happened to a woman. . . If the two people love one another and marry, and if they have a happy family, isn't that what counts? Anyone can make a mistake. It's how they act after the mistake that should be judged."

Miss Bergman unfortunately misses the point of her argument, although elsewhere she did state it differently:

"My decision was a selfish one. I made it for my own sake. I put my happiness first. But I never dreamed it would end up as it did—never! I thought sensible people could get divorced and be reasonable about everything. It never entered my head that I'd encounter such bitterness and that I'd lose Pia."

These quotations may have been prepared by Miss Bergman or may represent her philosophy of life or they may be a press agent's concept of what she ought to say to appeal to the American box office. In an era when the statements of principle by candidates for President are prepared by ghost-writers who have no principles but work for hire, it would not be astonishing to find ghost-written interviews and ghost-written magazine articles.

Miss Bergman's argument, in effect, is that there is nothing particularly wrong about a married woman bearing a child by a man not her husband. If she is right, then why should there be such an institution as marriage at all? All that is necessary is the desire, the craving, the yen for what she, or any individual, calls happiness. And in such cases what constitutes happiness? It is apparently the satisfaction of private lusts unrestrained by social customs.

Biologically there is nothing wrong with this argument. The human race and the alley cat have much in common biologically. But sociologically man has developed the family and has struggled for tens of thousands of years to preserve it.

It used to be the view of some sociologists that the family system came into existence to preserve property. Woman was, in some societies, regarded as chattel and was owned first by her father and then by her husband. Karl Marx said in his Manifesto:

"On what foundation is the present family, the bourgeois family, based? On capital, on private gain. In its completely developed form this family exists only among the bourgeoisie. But this state of things finds its complement in the practical absence of the family among proletarians, and in public prostitution."

"The bourgeois family will vanish as a matter of course when its complement vanishes, and both will vanish with the vanishing capital."

But Soviet Russia discovered what the human race has known for centuries, namely, that the destruction of the family system leads to social and intellectual decay.

Complaint that philanthropy is fading out in the world is not only untrue, but is obviously intended for the purpose of maligning Uncle Sam.

THE BLONDE DIED DANCING

by KELLEY ROOS

SYNOPSIS
Connie Barton's suspicions were aroused by her husband's clumsy excuses for his regular Wednesday night absences. She trailed Steve to a private dance studio and then realized he was taking dance lessons as a pleasant surprise for her. Keeping herself unnoticed, Connie watched the door of the studio till Steve left, and went in for a private word with his teacher. She found the instructor, Anita Farrell, sprawled on the floor—shot dead. In the corpse's hand was a super silhouette of herself. Confused, Connie's first thought was to cover up for Steve. She grabbed the silhouette and the appointment book at the unattended reception desk outside and went home to confront Steve. She had to believe his assertions of his innocence.

Police promptly got the names of all Miss Farrell's pupils and began checking to identify the 7 p. m. Wednesday waiter. When Lieut. Bolling asked Steve his lesson time, Steve said 8 o'clock Saturday. From the stolen appointment book Steve took the lesson time of a Ralph Kelley whom Bolling hadn't contacted—yet.

Using the name Heister Frost, and with a plan in mind to save Steve, Connie got Miss Farrell's teaching job. Connie noticed a ventilator in the ceiling of Studio K—the murder room—and set about exploring the possibility of the gunshot having come from there. While up on a catwalk over the false ceiling, she heard from the studio next to hers a man and a girl arguing whether he should chance going to "Rhinebeck Place."

That is where the late Miss Farrell lived, at No. 11. Connie phoned Steve and told him to meet her there. When she arrived she saw a young man hurry to Miss Farrell's apartment. A police guard scared him away, but before Connie recognized his voice he had one she overheard in the dance studio.

Steve sends a cable to pick up Connie the speediest way possible. While Steve is watching a man he has trailed from Rhinebeck Place. They plan for Connie to meet him.

CHAPTER 12

In a moment a gallant tenor voice was cooing at me. "May I join you?"

Languidly, I said, "Must you?"

"It's absolutely necessary." His teeth under his ghostly mustache were gleaming at me. "Not only necessary, but inevitable."

He established himself on the stool next to mine. I looked toward the door for Steve and found that he was at the end of the bar. He was accepting a beer from the bartender.

The man said, "Expecting someone?"

"Who, for instance?"

"Your husband?"

"He's in Milwaukee."

"Isn't that nice of him?"

I smiled at the man. "He's a darling. Sometimes he doesn't come home for weeks and weeks."

I had the next bit of information ready; I was becoming adept at this sort of thing. "My name's Gloria."

"Hello, Gloria. Mine's Wendell Kipp."

"Hello, Wendell. Tell me about yourself."

Wendell was delighted by my interest. To show me how pleased he was he leaned his shoulder closer to mine. I glanced at Steve in the mirror. He was scowling into his beer.

"I'm in real estate," he said.

"Well, you must show me some apartments some time."

Wendell put his near hand over my left hand. Steve suddenly moved two stools closer to us.

Wendell's voice purred in my ear. "There's an apartment I'd like to show you right now, tonight."

"Whose?" I purred coyly.

"Mine."

"It doesn't sound safe for a girl."

"It's perfectly safe. My wife's away this week."

"Milwaukee?"

He laughed, delighted again. His knee was against mine. Steve had moved three stools closer by this time.

Wendell turned serious, plaintive. "It's a real pleasure meeting a girl like you, Gloria."

He said, "Thelma is such a bore."

"Thelma? Your wife?"

"Yes. We don't get along."

"Doesn't she understand you?"

"She's so unsympathetic. Absolutely no sense of humor. We don't have fun. Like you and I could have fun."

The leer on Wendell's face was in Technicolor, Cinemascope, Cinerama, Todd-AO; it engulfed me. "We could have fun, baby, you and I. . . couldn't we? Couldn't we, though? Hmm, baby?"

I felt a thump and Steve was sitting beside me. He put his face close to mine. "Hiya, doll, he breathed. He leered, and it made Mr. Kipp's effort seem a pale and sorry thing. "How about great big me buying cute little you a drink?"

Wendell Kipp was on his feet. "Look here, young fellow," he said.

"Watch out who you're calling young fellow," Steve said.

"This young lady and I . . ."

"Watch out who you're calling a young lady," Steve said.

"This young lady and I wish to be alone. Now, please go away before I . . ." He stopped. He stepped back and looked at Steve.

He studied him intently. He said, "I've seen you somewhere before."

"Not me," Steve said. "I've never been somewhere before."

"Yes, your face is familiar. I think . . ."

"Wendell," I said, "you must be wrong . . ."

"I know! I know where I've seen him!" Mr. Kipp was triumphant. "At the Crescent School!"

"Never heard of it," Steve said.

"That's it! He took lessons from the same teacher I did . . ."

Mr. Kipp stepped back. His voice shook with excitement. "I saw him yesterday! He had the lesson after mine, he said."

scowling into his beer.

"I'm in real estate," he said.

"Well, you must show me some apartments some time."

Wendell put his near hand over my left hand. Steve suddenly moved two stools closer to us.

Wendell's voice purred in my ear. "There's an apartment I'd like to show you right now, tonight."

"Whose?" I purred coyly.

"Mine."

"It doesn't sound safe for a girl."

"It's perfectly safe. My wife's away this week."

"Milwaukee?"

He laughed, delighted again. His knee was against mine. Steve had moved three stools closer by this time.

Wendell turned serious, plaintive. "It's a real pleasure meeting a girl like you, Gloria."

He said, "Thelma is such a bore."

"Thelma? Your wife?"

"Yes. We don't get along."

"Doesn't she understand you?"

"She's so unsympathetic. Absolutely no sense of humor. We don't have fun. Like you and I could have fun."

The leer on Wendell's face was in Technicolor, Cinemascope, Cinerama, Todd-AO; it engulfed me. "We could have fun, baby, you and I. . . couldn't we? Couldn't we, though? Hmm, baby?"

I felt a thump and Steve was sitting beside me. He put his face close to mine. "Hiya, doll, he breathed. He leered, and it made Mr. Kipp's effort seem a pale and sorry thing. "How about great big me buying cute little you a drink?"

Wendell Kipp was on his feet. "Look here, young fellow," he said.

"Watch out who you're calling young fellow," Steve said.

"This young lady and I . . ."

"Watch out who you're calling a young lady," Steve said.

"This young lady and I wish to be alone. Now, please go away before I . . ." He stopped. He stepped back and looked at Steve.

He studied him intently. He said, "I've seen you somewhere before."

Richard Sensenbrenner And Sandra Miller Wed

Both Bride, Groom Columbus Residents

Of interest to many in this community was the Columbus wedding of Miss Sandra Miller and Mr. Richard Sensenbrenner.

Miss Miller is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Miller of 439 N. Richardson Ave., Columbus, and Mr. Sensenbrenner is the son of Mayor and Mrs. M. E. Sensenbrenner of 335 Guernsey Ave., Columbus.

The Rev. A. J. Wold and the Rev. Mr. George J. Taylor officiated at the wedding, held in Hoge Memorial Presbyterian Church, Columbus.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a princess style gown fashioned of imported re-em-broidered Alencon lace and delustered satin. The gown was designed with a lace bodice with a Sabrina neckline and long calla sleeves.

Billowing over hoops and crinolines, the skirt swept into a chapel train. Her fingertip veil was caught to a half hat of matching lace embroidered with seed pearls and cascading from her prayer book were filices of the valley centered with a white orchid.

The bride's attendants wore floor-length gowns of garnet red silk bombazine. The portrait necklines were trimmed with butterfly bows in the back. Wide panels in the back fell to the hemlines of the full skirts worn over crinolines.

They wore garnet red velvet hats with maline veils at the back and carried arm bouquets of Cornet Supreme roses tied with deep pink. Miss Marilyn Robin Montanaro as flower girl was in garnet red velvet and carried a blush pink tulip basket with pink sweetheart roses.

Mr. Si Thimmes served as best man and ushers were Mr. James Fondaw, Mr. Carl Pressler, Mr. Donald De Shetler and Mrs. Clyde Wilson. Ringbearer was Larry Ramey.

Over 600 attended the reception held at the Athletic Club, Columbus.

The bride's mother selected for her daughter's marriage a sheath of taupe silk peau de soie. She pinned a corsage of pink sweetheart roses to her purse. Mrs. Sensenbrenner was attired in a sheath of gold brocade with matching accessories and wore a corsage of yellow sweetheart roses.

Hostesses at the reception were Miss Millicent Ramey, Miss Carol Elliott, Miss Joan Courtney, Miss Beverly Hays, Mrs. Susie Fondaw, Mrs. Joan Spratley and Mrs. June Pressler.

Both the bride and bridegroom were graduated from Columbus West High School. She is employed as a secretary at Westinghouse Electric Corp. Mr. Sensenbrenner attended Ohio University and is presently employed by the City of Columbus Division of Water.

After a two-week wedding trip to Florida, the couple will be at home at 617 S. Ogden Ave., Columbus.

Attending the wedding and reception from Circleville were Mrs. Edward Sensenbrenner, grandmother of the groom, and Mrs. Alice Sensenbrenner, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Sensenbrenner of Chillicothe.

Willing Workers Class Reviews Composer's Life

Mrs. Larry Goodman of Amanda entertained the Willing Workers Class of the Pontious Evangelical United Brethren Church in her home.

Mrs. Guy Stockman had charge of the meeting and used as her opening song, "Love Lifted Me", followed by the reading of the class motto.

Devotions were led by Mrs. Ethel Klingensmith. The song, "I'll Live For Him", was sung, followed by a prayer by Mrs. Creighton Kraft. Mrs. Klingensmith used as her Scripture selection the 3rd chapter of Proverbs, dealing with wisdom.

The program consisted of the reading of, "Darling Nellie Grey", and a talk concerning the life of the composer, Benjamin R. Hamby.

A quiz was conducted on the brothers and sisters of the Bible. The Lord's Prayer was given in unison and the group closed the program with the singing of America.

Mrs. Russell Palm presented the topic, "Three Sick Women", taken from the year book, "Women of the Bible".

Refreshments were served at the close of the meeting.

The next meeting will be held in the home of Mrs. Boyd Ramsey of Eastmoor, November 15 at 2 p. m. Mrs. Larry Goodman will have charge of the devotions and Miss Edwina Holderman will be in charge of the program.

Mrs. Oakley Leist was in charge of the devotions, and the scripture was read by Miss Nellie Bolender.

During the business meeting, conducted by the president, Mrs. Hedges, committees were appointed to make final plans for entertaining ladies from several churches. The program will be a take-off of a well known television panel show.

It was voted to give a donation to the United Appeal.

Mrs. Arthur Leist had charge of the program, consisting of a contest won by Mrs. Emmett Hinton. Readings were presented by different members.

Mrs. Loring Leist read the minutes and roll call from an old secretary book dating back to 1918.

Fourteen members were in attendance and the following visitors were present: Mrs. Al Jackson and daughter, Denise, Mrs. James Pierce and Janice Perdion, Mrs. Lewis Cook and Mrs. Carl Agin.

Household Hints

For a gloriously golden-brown pie, brush the top crust with egg yolk mixed with 1½ teaspoons water.

You do not have to rinse spaghetti, after it is cooked, if you are planning to reheat it with a sauce.

A blend of blue cheese, cream cheese and sour cream makes a delectable salad dressing. Add salt, pepper, paprika and grated onion to taste.

Practical Nurses Group Shown Film On Cancer

Mrs. Oscar Root, vice-president, conducted the business meeting when the Practical Nurses Association met in the Berger Hospital Guild room.

Dr. J. A. Cunningham and Dr. William Speakman, members of the local Pickaway County Cancer Society, showed a film on cancer. Dr. Robert Smith gave an informative talk on the subject of cancer and followed it with a question-and-answer period.

Refreshments in keeping with the Halloween theme were served by the co-hostesses, Mrs. Jeanette Martins and Mrs. Helen Wertman.

The next scheduled meeting will be held Nov. 16, instead of the regular date which would fall during Thanksgiving week.

Sophisticated of flavor is this two-layered coffee mold. Unflavored gelatin, a little sugar and instant coffee make the clear jelly for the top layer. Whipped cream is added to the basic recipe for the bottom layer. Each taste is like sipping coffee through whipped cream.

Two-Tone Coffee Mold

Coffee Jelly:
1 envelope unflavored gelatin 1½ cups hot water
½ cup cold water ¼ cup sugar
1 tablespoon instant coffee

Sprinkle gelatin on cold water to soften. Add hot water; stir until gelatin is dissolved. Add sugar and coffee; stir until sugar is dissolved. Turn into a 5-cup mold; chill until almost firm.

Coffee Bavarian:
1 envelope unflavored gelatin ½ cup sugar
½ cup cold water 4 teaspoons instant coffee
½ cup hot water 1 cup heavy cream, whipped

Sprinkle gelatin on cold water to soften. Add hot water; stir until gelatin is dissolved. Add sugar and coffee; stir until sugar is dissolved. Chill until mixture is the consistency of unbeaten egg white. Fold in whipped cream. Turn on top of almost firm first layer. Chill until firm. Unmold; garnish with additional whipped cream.

YIELD: 8-10 servings.

NOTE: If desired, recipes may be used separately. Increase sugar in clear coffee jelly to ¾ cup and turn into a 2-cup mold or 4 individual molds. Turn coffee "Bavarian" into a 3-cup mold or spoon into dessert dishes.

Shining Light's Members Plan To Aid Shut-Ins

Nineteen members and six guests were present when Mrs. Carlos Brown entertained the Shining Light Bible Class of the First Evangelical United Brethren Church.

The meeting opened with group singing, and a psalm was repeated in unison. Mrs. O. F. Gibbs led the group in prayer.

Mrs. Myrtle Trimmer, president, conducted the business meeting. After a short talk on the meaning of "Shining Lights", the class voted to provide "Upper Room" pamphlets for the shut-ins next month.

Mrs. Mable Estep opened the program with group singing of "Amazing Grace". Devotions were in charge of Mrs. Ernest May, and Mrs. Ralph Long concluded this period with a prayer.

A solo, "Ivory Palaces", was given by Miss Brenda Brown, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. James Pierce. Two Bible contests were held, with Mrs. Long and Mrs. John Neuding being the winners.

A dessert course was served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Roy James and Mrs. Estep. A group picture was taken by Mrs. Austin Hurley.

The November hostesses will be Mrs. Cora Coffland, Mrs. Trimmer and the Misses Viola and Daisy Woolver.

Small Business Being Heard In Campaign Era

Bankers Deny Loans Harder To Get For Tinier Enterprises

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—Small business is crying louder in these days of tighter money and rougher competition. Its plaint gets more attention in this final pre-election week. And the American public, traditionally chary of big business, sees a flood of profit reports today which underline just how big some businesses are.

Is big business squeezing the little firm? Is tight money pushing the small fellow to the wall? How can Uncle Sam lend a bolstering hand? Where is the dividing line across which small business becomes big business?

Big business denies it hurts small business. It insists, on the contrary, that it needs, supplies and buys from small business—that each is mutually helpful.

Bankers deny that the small businessman can't find loans. The banking fraternity stresses that most banks are small, too, and that their loan department customers are mostly small business firms. The American Bankers Assn. says that the total volume of business loans under $100,000 is now 14 per cent higher than a year ago.

Troubles which small businessmen consider peculiarly their own are:

1. Financial. They find it harder than the big firms to get credit; higher interest rates hurt them much more since the big boys have more resources to tide them over any squeeze; it's harder for the small fellow to tap the investment market for capital.

2. Operational. Engineers and skilled laborers are attracted to big concerns; today's competition calls constantly for more research emphasis, and only the big ones can afford it; and the research of the big company means new products and better techniques, giving it a further edge in the future.

3. Governmental. Taxes eat up earnings once saved for expansion; and government contracts go to big companies equipped to make complex and expensive items that government increasingly demands.

But big business points out these advantages smaller firms have:

1. Labor relations frequently are better because of a closer family feeling and company loyalty.

2. The smaller firm can make quicker decisions because the shorter the executive channels the less the corporate red tape; and being in closer touch with, and often nearer to, their customers, the small ones often grab the business.

3. While big firms thrive in fields requiring heavy investment in development and production plant, small ones excel in processing, converting and distributing the products of big business.

Plans for aiding small business mostly stress tax relief, government contracts, or more borrowing opportunities.

Thug Convinced By Waitress He's Kidding

COLUMBUS (AP)—The sheriff's office reported this conversation between a would-be holdup man and Ethel Steel, a drive-in waitress after the waitress was threatened with a gun:

"This is a holdup," the gunman said. "Give me the money in the cash register."

"You're kidding," the waitress replied.

"No, I'm not," said the gunman. "Aw, go on. I think you're kidding."

"Do you think I'm kidding?" the gunman asked.

"Yes, I think you're kidding."

"Yeah, I guess I am," the robber replied.

And with that, the man shoved his gun back into his pocket and walked away.

Statehouse Parking Garage Opposed

COLUMBUS (AP)—A parking lot operator argued in the Ohio Supreme Court Friday that highway funds could not be used in planning construction of a parking garage under the statehouse yard in Columbus.

Olen Grandie of Cincinnati asked the court to prevent use of $64,500 in highway funds for a study preliminary to construction of a $4½ million underground garage.

Grandie appealed from lower court decisions holding that the money could be used for that purpose. He brought his injunction action against the state auditor on ground that the Ohio Constitution forbids use of highway funds for the proposed garage. The state auditor would have to release the money for the planning.

Indonesian Rebels Kill 4 In Raids

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP)—A band of 450 rebels killed 4 persons and burned 100 houses in an attack on army posts and villages in the Bandung area, local authorities said over the weekend.

The rebels are members of the fanatic Darul Islam which demands an exclusively Moslem government controlled by religious leaders for Indonesia.

Revolt Said Symbol

LONDON (AP)—Gen. Alfred Gruenther, retiring Allied Supreme Commander in Europe, says the Hungarian and Polish revolts are symbolic of hostility throughout the satellite countries toward the Soviet Union.

Hosts For Foreign Visitors Tell Their Top Impressions

Threads of the same gratitude and human interests ran through the impressions of the 22 foreign educators who visited Circleville for the last two days of the Pumpkin Show.

Revealing comments and observations made by members of the group have been gathered, since the close of the anniversary show, from the families that helped entertain the visitors from foreign lands. The 22 teachers and school officials, representing nearly a dozen foreign countries, came here under a program directed by Carl Johnson in behalf of the Circleville Kiwanis Club.

The impressions of two German members of the group, Joachim Barth and Heinrich Kronen, who were entertained in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Bell of N. Court St., have been described as follows:

They were surprised to find that street festivals existed in the United States. They could hardly believe that people would work in the different booths of the community organizations for a cause, and not for personal gain.

THEY WERE deeply impressed by the fact that prominent local people, like the superintendent of schools, were selling pancakes to help underprivileged children. And that the mothers of the high school band members were selling pie and coffee to help purchase band uniforms.

They were also surprised to hear how the Parent-Teachers Association members sold food to finance the school clinic and other needs of the school children. They were interested in the pie contest and enjoyed eating some of the pie baked by the experts.

They enjoyed the band music very much.

They felt the average American mother is more devoted and does more for her children than mothers in other countries.

Mrs. Bell said: "They were just delightful guests." Prabhakar Pendharkar of India, the only artist in the group, and Karl-Heinz Bruggemann, another visitor from Germany, were guests in the Harry Montelius home.

Baby Abandoned

CINCINNATI (AP)—A baby boy, about 18 months old, was found apparently abandoned in a parked auto here Sunday night.

Aircraft Landings Hit Record High

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Civil Aeronautics Administration says there were 20,384,000 aircraft landings and takeoffs at the nation's nonmilitary airports during the year ended June 30.

The CAA said this was a record, exceeding the previous 12-month total by 1,533,000.

Once again, Chicago's Midway Airport was busiest with 366,079 landings and takeoffs. Next came New York's La Guardia airport with 260,661 and Washington's National Airport with 237,590.

Argentine Chief Plans Dictator Ban

BUENOS AIRES (AP)—Provisional President Pedro Aramburu says his government plans to overhaul Argentina's constitution to bar the possibility of any more dictators.

Aramburu said his regime will call a constituent assembly to reform the constitution in advance of the 1957 election—first since Juan D. Peron was thrown out as dictator-president.

Chicago Heart Specialist Cited

CINCINNATI (AP)—Dr. Louis N. Katz of Chicago has received the American Heart Assn.'s 1956 Albert Lasker award for "distinguished achievement in the field of cardiovascular research."

The Lasker award was conferred on Dr. Katz by Dr. Edgar V. Allen, Rochester, Minn., president-elect of the American Heart Assn., which is holding its annual meeting here.

Dr. Katz received his medical degree at Western Reserve University, Cleveland, in 1921.

The term "hidden power"—used in connection with paint—refers to the capacity of a paint to conceal the surface that lies beneath it.

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press
News Analyst

WASHINGTON — President Eisenhower suddenly faces one of the most important moments of his administration — decisions on Eastern Europe — and perhaps one of his greatest crises: the possibility of war in the Middle East.

Both land on his doorstep in the midst of the political campaign. Neither may be solved before election day. But what Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles do is a test of their leadership and may be a turning point in history.

Israel, mobilizing its armed forces, has Eisenhower worried it may attack its Arab neighbors. Such a war, once started and engulfing the Middle East, might not be limited to Israelis and Arabs. Israel says she fears an Arab attack.

The United States and Russia both have a stake in the Middle East. Both have been contending for influence there.

In Eastern Europe the American government has hoped ever since World War II to see Russia's grip on the satellites shaken loose. That hope may now become a reality.

These are the problems for Eisenhower and Dulles:

The United States, trying to avoid making enemies in the Middle East, has refused arms to the Israelis, who said they needed them for defense.

But at the same time the United States gave the nod to the French to go ahead and supply the Israelis. They've been well supplied, according to reports here, and have now mobilized perhaps 200,000 men.

An attack by the Israelis on the Arabs now would serve the interests of the French, who have their hands full with the Arabs in North Africa.

Such an attack, if made now, would come at a time when the world's attention has been diverted from the Middle East to Eastern Europe, where the Poles — to some extent — have shaken off Russian control and the Hungarians have been fighting for a week to get the Russians off Hungary's back.

Also an attack now would come on the eve of the American elections when any stand taken by the Eisenhower administration on Israel — one way or the other — might influence the American Jewish vote a week from Tuesday.

But if the Israelis should attack and whip the Arabs — without effort by this country to stop them — the shattered Arabs would probably feel their only friend was Russia and turn to her for help, if not during the war, at least afterwards.

That would put Russia into the Middle East in a big way, the last thing the United States wants to see.

If the United States could get the Russians to pull back to Russia the troops now scattered through the satellites all the way to Eastern Germany, it would give the satellite peoples a chance to work out their own destiny. In time they might shake off communism too and become American friends. At least freedom from Russian control for the satellites would mean the diminishing of Russian influence.

All these possibilities face Eisenhower and Dulles. If they make a bad move, they may wreck American opportunities in Eastern Europe for years or forever. Yet, the Russians have their own dilemma. They have posed to the undeveloped nations around them as friends with no motives except kindness and a desire to help.

By using their troops to fight the Hungarian revolt, they have already made a joke of their pious protestations. If they use more force, their other neighbors can

Garfield Relics Are Returned To Museum

PAINESVILLE, Ohio — The black bonnet which the widow of President James A. Garfield wore to his funeral has been returned, but in a way that shed no light on its disappearance from a showcase at the Garfield mansion-museum at nearby Mentor last July 21.

Police at Conneaut, 50 miles east of the mansion, found the bonnet in a paper shopping bag on the desk of their headquarters office late Thursday. Someone had come in the front door, put the bag on the desk and left while two officers on duty were upstairs. No one has been found who saw the person leave the bag.

Conneaut police said the bonnet was turned over to Mentor Police Chief Frank Hathy and a representative of the Lake County Historical Society. They said it did not appear to have been damaged. The bonnet and a letter of condolence which Queen Victoria of England wrote to Mrs. Garfield after the President's assassination in 1881 were taken from a mansion showcase which had been left unlocked.

The letter was returned Monday night by Edward L. Boerngen, 26, of Cleveland, who told Chief Hathy that a woman friend whom he refused to identify had stolen it from the Garfield home. Boerngen said he knew nothing about the missing bonnet.

Rome Cheers Revolt

ROME — More than 1,000 students demonstrated through the streets of Rome in support of the Hungarians and Poles trying to break away from Soviet domination.

longer be deluded about their real intentions.

But if they back out of the satellites, they lose face too. The problem for Eisenhower and Dulles is how to take advantage of the Russian dilemma. It's an opportunity which may not come again.

Independent Vote To Play Big Role In Ohio Elections

COLUMBUS, Ohio — Leaders of both political parties say Ohio's "independent vote" may decide the close contests in the Nov. 6 election.

From now until election day they will devote particular attention to voters without any definite party attachment as well as nominal Democrats or Republicans who vote for a smattering of opposition candidates.

Spurring their efforts is a prediction by Secretary of State Ted W. Brown that only about 34 million Ohioans will go to the polls next month despite a record registration. Brown's estimate is only 172 higher than the total of 3,749,828 votes cast in the 1952 general election.

Brown said he based his guess largely on a total registration of 3,145,732 voters compared with 3,072,372 four years ago. He said the increase of only 73,360 indicated apathy on the part of voters this year. The secretary of state said his figures for purposes of comparison were adjusted to allow for a 2 per cent shrinkage in preliminary registration totals when duplications and other errors are corrected.

Brown expressed disappointment over the registrations that are required in all or parts of 37 counties. Residents of Ohio's other 51 counties can vote without registering if they are 21 years old by election day and have lived in the state and their precinct for a year. Registrations closed Sept. 26.

Party leaders showed concern over failure of registration drives in some areas to set new records despite population increases.

Ray C. Bliss, Republican state chairman, and William C. Coleman, Democratic state chairman, said they would go all-out in wooing the "independents" and getting registered party members to the polls.

Both expressed belief that slowly increasing interest in the campaign might bring out more voters than Brown expects. Brown said he hoped so, but stood by his usually accurate forecast.

Coleman said Ohio has one of the largest independent voting segments of any state. "They are doing a lot of thinking in our direction," he asserted.

The Democratic chief said he also expected that nominal Democrats who switched to President Eisenhower in 1952 would desert the Republicans and vote for Adlai E. Stevenson this year.

Bliss had a different idea. He said Eisenhower's active campaigning has stimulated interest in the election with the result that more Ohioans than ever may mark ballots.

And the Republican chairman expressed confidence that Eisenhower will hold the independent and "switch" voters who favored him four years ago and attract even more.

Bliss all along has warned of voter complacency. He said high employment and lack of war made people more satisfied and less desirous of a change. But he observed that election interest has picked up steam in the last 10 or 15 days and that the results may show up at the polls.

Six major counties reported registration gains but four others fell below 1952 totals.

Cuyahoga County, which accounts for nearly a fifth of Ohio's votes, dropped to 769,732 registrations from 788,547 in 1952. Both totals were for registrations before adjustment.

Reports from other counties, comparing adjusted or unadjusted figures for both years, included: Lucas 217,492 this year and 216,596 four years ago; Summit 225,000 and 224,453; Trumbull 90,248 and 88,568; Mahoning 148,000 and 140,338; Allen 33,776 and 32,602; Montgomery 215,903 and 205,165; Hamilton 406,280 and 409,652; Clark 54,207 and 56,684; Muskingum 19,877 and 21,125.

Estimated potential voters increased in Ohio from nearly 5 1/2 million in 1952 to about six million this year.

States Righters Off Ohio Ballot

COLUMBUS — Secretary of State Ted W. Brown says Ohio ballots will not permit voters to write in the names of state's rights candidates.

The secretary of state commented on articles in at least two national publications saying that Ohioans could write in the names of those candidates.

Ohio law specifies, Brown said, that a blank space may be provided for a "write-in" at the general election only if there is an office for which there is no candidate or if there are not as many candidates for the office as the number to be elected.

Sokolsky's These Days

Soviet Russia has gone puritanical and regards the American obsession with sex a form of hooliganism representing Western decay. In fact, for such conduct as Miss Bergmar permitted herself, a commissar could be expelled from the Russian Communist Party.

Were Ingrid Bergman a salesgirl in a department store or a dancer in the last row of the chorus, her views on love and marriage, first expressed by her countrywoman, Ellen Kay, would only hurt herself and those close to her. But she is the idol of many young people, particularly after she played the role of the heroic Joan of Arc. She was not only beautiful in that role but she achieved a nobility of person rarely found among actresses—only a few possessed that quality; among Americans, Maude Adams is the best example. To millions then, she is a noble woman and if a noble woman in pursuit of happiness regards the family system as trash, then it must be trash.

There is the real danger in Miss Bergman's attitude. And even if it costs some movie company a loss, Miss Bergman's conduct cannot be condoned by society as long as she brazenly advertises it as correct. It is not correct.

On and after this date, I will not be responsible for any debts contracted by any other than myself. James G. Dodrill, R 3, Mt. Sterling.

Country Club Golf Tourney Won By Don Olney-Rick Spires Team

Don Olney and Rick Spires, shooting a seven under par 65 as a team, took top honors Sunday at the Pickaway Country Club's Calcutta Golf Match.

The two golfers netted $52 each for their low team score.

All two-man teams participating in the match had been selected earlier in the week. They were auctioned off to the highest bidder at the club's Saturday night masquerade party.

Two teams were knotted for second place with a score of 67. One of the teams was composed of Floyd Stubbs and Burk Burkhardt. The other twosome was Dick Boyd and Bill Goodchild. Each team received $45.50 in prize money.

THIRD place honors went to

Light Heavy Ring Schedule Altered

NEW YORK — Plans for a light heavyweight elimination tournament to provide a successor for Archie Moore have been set back by an injury to Willie Hoepner, German import. Hoepner was to have fought Chuck Spieser of Detroit Wednesday.

The International Boxing Club had to scramble its schedule to fill the date, moving up the Joe Meli-Carlo Sarlo match from Nov. 7. Hoepner's U. S. debut will be rescheduled when he is mended.

The first light heavy elimination scrap now will be Tony Anthony-Gordon Wallace at Madison Square Garden, Dec. 7.

U.S. Weight Lift Team 'All Ready'

SAN JOSE, Calif. — Uncle Sam's weight lifting team, called by its coach "the strongest we've ever had," is confident of defeating Russia in the Olympic Games at Melbourne next month.

"Nobody beats the Russians or the Americans in lifting," said coach Bob Hoffman, "but we're going to beat the Russians."

Anchor man on the team is heavyweight Paul Anderson, a 308-pound Georgia strongboy rated by Hoffman the "surest man we have to win a championship."

Hungary Claims Team Withdrawn

LONDON — The status of Hungary, which has produced some of the greatest distance runners the world has known, in the Olympic Games was still clouded today although Radio Budapest announced the team was being withdrawn.

Efforts to reach Olympic officials in revolution-torn Budapest have been unavailing, and authorities here were not quite certain whether to believe Budapest.

The broadcast, monitored here, said the entire team had been withdrawn because training was "interrupted" by the revolt.

Unbeaten List Is Shaved To 35

CHICAGO — Led by the surprise demise of Michigan State, which lost to Illinois Saturday, the list of the nation's unbeaten, untied college football teams fell to 35.

Most of the major unbeaten group have won five games, but some of the smaller colleges have already compiled six and seven game all-winning records. Major colleges with perfect records include second-ranked Oklahoma, Tennessee, Princeton, Georgia Tech and Iowa.

Browns Sink Even Lower In Loop Play

CLEVELAND — The pro football season won't be half over until the coming weekend, but the defending champions, the Cleveland Browns, already are almost certain to miss the championship playoff for the first time in their 11-year history.

A 24-16 loss to Pittsburgh's Steelers before 50,358 fans here Sunday crumbled what dim hopes the Browns had retained up to then. Cleveland's only victory in five games was by 14-10 over the Steelers at Pittsburgh.

Now in last place in the Eastern Conference, the Browns have only 55 points to show for five games, the lowest offensive total in the league. With seven games remaining, they trail the Chicago Cards and New York Giants by three full games.

"Every mistake we made went against us," Coach Paul Brown said after Sunday's loss.

The mistakes included a blocked field goal and two pass interceptions. These gave the Steelers possession of the ball which they maintained until they scored in each case. Another interception spoiled a Browns' bid in the third period, when they had first down on Pittsburgh's 37. And a fumble by Skeets Quinlan in trying to place the ball for Cleveland's first point - after - touchdown "really hurt," Brown said, explaining:

"In this game, a touchdown isn't worth much if you don't get the extra point."
On what Coach Brown called "the big play of the game," two minutes before the half, defensive halfback Don Paul missed a signal, and Lowell Perry got behind him to take a pass from Ted Marchbroda for a touchdown play that covered 75 yards.

Graham Not Sorry He Quit Football

COLUMBUS — Otto Graham, former quarterback of the Cleveland Browns, said Friday he isn't sorry he retired after 10 winning seasons with the National Football League Club.

"I know some people think my absence has hurt the Browns, but that isn't true," Graham said. "The Browns are still a great ball club. They haven't been getting any breaks, except bad ones, this year, so maybe things are beginning to even up. I know we got a lot of good breaks for a lot of years," he said.

Ohio Cities Netted More Than $5 Million From Curb Meters

Cincy Leads 1955 Totals In Parking Fees

Circleville Collection Came To $24,955; 111 Cities Covered

Parking meter pennies and nickels added up to more than five million dollars in revenue for 111 Ohio cities last year, according to annual reports to State Auditor James A. Rhodes from city auditors and municipal finance officers.

Cincinnati led all cities in the state last year in parking meter revenue with $657,300.13 collected. Columbus was second with $236,952.90; Toledo, third, with $204,085.15, and Cleveland fourth with $164,761.17.

Circleville collected $24,955.25 last year.

Five years ago revenue from all of Ohio's parking meters was $3,349,009. Last year it amounted to $5,003,753.

IN MOST cities it is a bigger revenue source than all other local fees and licenses; bigger than beer and liquor permits, or fees for garbage and refuse collections, or the city's share of inheritance taxes.

All but 30 of Ohio's 141 cities

Democrats Gain In Alaskan Poll

JUNEAU, Alaska (AP)—The counting of absentee ballots cast in Alaska's Oct. 9 election has been completed. The final tally gave the Democrats one more seat in the territorial House of Representatives—and a total of 21. The Republicans won 3 seats.

The Republicans won 5 territorial Senate seats to 4 for the Democrats, but the Democrats will have control of the Senate by virtue of 7 holdover seats.

Envoy Returns

HONOLULU (AP)—Japanese Prime Minister Ichiro Hatoyama arrived Sunday night en route home from Moscow, where he negotiated a Japanese-Russian peace treaty.

operated parking meters last year. Twenty eight of these with parking meters are suburbs of larger cities.

Parking meter collections vary widely in cities approximately the same size.

Some of the other 1955 collections totals were: Lancaster, $41,664.80; Chillicothe, $54,595.04; Mt. Vernon, $49,086.28; Delaware, $28,061.82; Coshocton, $36,767.62; Athens, $36,833.65; Washington C. H., $41,951.80; Van Wert, $23,013.30; Bellefontaine, $27,192.08; Dover, $20,412.83; Wilmington, $23,696.44; Jackson, $27,301.22; Logan, $23,144.75.

Hungarian Demonstrators Asking U.S. Military Aid

NEW YORK (AP)—A New York Post correspondent in Budapest has reported that Hungarian demonstrators there were asking for American military help.

Correspondent Seymour Freidin, in a dispatch from the Hungarian capital, said the revolt had turned into a "massacre of the innocents" with Soviet troops shooting down unarmed men and women.

"In their days and nights of anguish, Hungarians have turned to massing before the American legation," he wrote. "Yesterday they demanded: 'We want American troops, not propaganda leaflets.'"

"They know they won't get American troops. But it seems to help them to ask. It's an expression of defiance."

Freidin said Soviet T34 tanks blocked every important street and choked every bridge in Budapest, and Russian heavy guns were mounted on the east bank of the Danube. In parliament square Thursday, he declared, Hungarians

Turnpike Take Up

CLEVELAND (AP)—In the first three weeks of October the Ohio Turnpike saw passenger vehicle revenue increase 5.4 per cent over the same period a year ago. Truck revenue was up by 50.5 per cent, ans were mowed down "like stalks of wheat."

"Just as Russian troops, more than 100 years ago, suppressed a revolution in Hungary," he went on, "so are Russians trying the same tactics today by brute strength and massive fire power."

"They have blasted workers' apartments, shelled entire districts and plunged the city into a poorly lit village of rubble over which a blanket of mist descends from the Danube."

"Yet thousands make their way to demonstrations, undeterred by gun muzzles thrust in their faces. They are demanding 'independence,' withdrawal of Russians forever and the opportunity to settle their own home affairs."

"Nobody knows how many have perished. Hospitals are filled to bursting."

Neighbors' Fight Ends With Death

CLEVELAND (AP)—Elmer Santo, 32, of Cleveland was dead and his neighbor Louis J. Capasso, 24, was held in jail today. Police said a partial investigation showed the two had argued for two years over a common driveway, and that when they got into a fight Sunday Santo was slugged to death.

Capasso was held for investigation in connection with assault.

Homemade Sailboat Crosses Atlantic

SALCOMBE, England (AP)—A Canadian and a Briton reached dry land tired but smiling Saturday after a stormy 57-day Atlantic crossing in their homemade 26-foot sailboat.

The voyagers, Bertram Smith, 31, of Toronto, and Alan Battersby, 29, of Blackpool, England, said they were feeling fine.

The ketch set out from Montreal June 14, but sprung a leak and had to put into Halifax. She set sail again Sept. 1.

During the voyage they existed for 10 days on only half a cup of water each. For another period their daily ration consisted of four lumps of sugar and a cup of soup.

'Stress' Of Living Said Over-Stressed

CINCINNATI (AP)—Americans are inclined to over-stress the "stress" of modern-day living, a heart specialist says.

"We are inclined as a nation to think we are living under more stress than any other people at any other time," declared Dr. Irvine H. Page, president of the American Heart Assn.

"Yet I daresay if you had been about to have your scalp taken off by an Indian there would have been a fair amount of stress involved—and, building the pyramids must have been a somewhat stressful situation."

Cleveland Museum Slated To Close

CLEVELAND (AP)—Construction work on the Cleveland Art Museum's $5½ million addition will close the entire museum for nine months beginning April 1, Director William M. Milliken says.

It will be the first time in 41 years that the museum has shut down for any extended time. Milliken said the board of trustees decided to close the museum as a safety measure.

He said the museum will not operate on a parttime basis because its multi-million-dollar collections would be endangered and insurance would be prohibitive.

SWEPT-WING '57 Dodge

How do you describe a car so daring in concept, so revolutionary in features and advances, so rewarding in beauty and performance?

How do you explain its newness when everything about it is new?

On display today is just such a car—the Sweep-Wing '57 Dodge that steps you into the wonderful world of Autodynamics.

What is this wonderful world of Autodynamics? It is a world where everything is new from road to roof to achieve absolute mastery of motion.

Here's what it does in the Sweep-Wing Dodge:

- It unleashes a hurricane of power from a thundering new aircraft-type Super Red Ram V-8 engine that's a spitfire in action!
- It tames a tornado of torque with a new TorqueFlite Push-Button Drive for the greatest get-away on the road!

- It breaks through the vibration barrier with a revolutionary new rubber-mounted suspension system—Dodge Torsion-Air—that features race car torsion-bars. You ride in a "Realm of Silence," isolated from vibration, noise and road shock.

- It is swept-wing mastery of motion in a sleek, low-slung beauty barely 4½ feet high that has no equal in the way it corners, handles and rides.

You have never seen, felt or owned any car that compared with this new Sweep-Wing Dodge. See and drive it today . . . now at your Dodge dealer's!
